MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy Director (Intelligence)

1. Some time ago I think we agreed that it was time for the National Indications Center to review the "indications" that were used by the intelligence community as guides for determination of intentions by the Soviet Bloc. As I recall, we generally agreed that there were probably some indicators on which we were still expending resources but which might long since be out of date, and we might not be expending enough resources on certain indicators that are much more current.

2. Please bring me up to date on this.
